COUNCILMAN L. M. POOLE DIES SUDDENLY

CITY LAWMAKER IS STRICKEN SHORTLY AFTER SOLON SESSION

Acute Indigestion Claims Pottery Plant Foreman.

4 YEARS OLD

Funeral Services Will be Held on Thursday.

L. M. Poole, 54, Third ward representative in city council and kinship foreman in the Newell plant of the Edwin M. Knowles China company, died suddenly of acute indigestion in his home in Ogden street shortly after attending a session of the municipal legislative assembly last night.

Spanish-American War Vet.

Seemingly in good health, he returned home at 10:15 o'clock, ate a light lunch and retired. A few minutes later he was stricken with convulsions, and died at 11:35 o'clock. He was unconscious when Dr. W. A. Hobbs, answering the call, reached the home.

Councilman Poole, who was serving his second term, was a Republican. He succeeded the late John B. Rowe as a solon.

He was a Spanish-American war veteran and a member of Private Eddy post, No. 66, Veterans of Foreign Wars. He was also a member of the First Church of Christ church and the Odd Fellows lodge.

Resident Here 35 Years.

For 35 years he had been a resident of the city.

Besides his widow, Mrs. Mary Poole, he leaves two brothers, Dorcy, of Youngstown, and A. M. Poole, of Salem, and six sisters, Mrs. J. E. Cornell, P. S. Burkh, Mrs. Belle Hiner, Mrs. Lavinia Green, Mrs. L. S. J. Poole, Mrs. A. L. Nebb, and Miss S. J. Poole, all of East Liverpool.

Funeral services will be held in the home at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon, in charge of Rev. W. H. Baker, pastor of the Church of Christ. Burial will be made in Riverview cemetery.

Friends may view the body tonight and tomorrow.

To Tax the President.
Cancer's Cost.
Chicken Men, Read.
Earth's Big Guest.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

(The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review.)

THE senate vote, to make the president pay income tax on his salary, will not affect President Coolidge, unless he takes a second elective term. But it will emphasize the injustice of earned income taxes.

Income tax on a coal mine charges off large sums for "depletion." Coal supply is reduced each year, so the tax is cut.

What about a doctor or other income earner? Are not his years of life and work, his brain and nervous energy diminished and depleted each year?

A tax system ignoring that condition is confiscation, not mere taxation.

Actual money loss caused each year by cancer in America is estimated at $800,000,000, a loss as great as though 300,000 workmen were idle throughout the year.

This terrific loss—in which dreadful suffering by victims and their relatives, is the only important factor—could be reduced by three-quarters, at least, if small growths on the body were not ignored until too late.

Mr. Fiske, head of the Metropolitan Life company, and his associates are to be congratulated for their ceaseless effort to make the public realize the nature of disease and its prevention. A large sum spent each year, by the Metropolitan, in advertising warnings, is worth to the country as a whole ten thousand times its cost.

TOKIO, May 8.—After a meeting today to consider the acute situation in China the cabinet ordered the third division, recruited up to its wartime strength of 15,000 men, to proceed to China forthwith if the emperor approves the order. As imperial approval is a formality it is expected that it will be given tomorrow and that the troops will be on their way to China within less than 30 hours.

It is reported at Shanghai that the northern army which retired from Tsinan has been reformed and that it is preparing to launch attacks upon the Nationalists in the direction of the Shantung capital.

Anti-Japanese demonstrations were made at Shanghai and Canton.

He was born in Steubenville but came to East Liverpool when he was about three years of age. He was last employed as a jigman at the Smith-Phillips pottery, retiring about three years ago.

Mr. Wucherer was an active member of the First Presbyterian church and for many years was the teacher of the Westminster Bible class.

Hoover Faces His Biggest Test in Today's Race Against Senator Watson in Indiana

WASHINGTON, May 8.—Herbert Hoover faces the biggest test he has yet encountered in his quest of the Republican presidential nomination in today's primary in Indiana.

If Hoover can decisively defeat the favorite son candidacy of Senator James E. Watson, backed as it is by a state organization which for efficiency is second probably to none in the country, then the prospect of "stopping Hoover" at Kansas City admitted becomes a forlorn one.

If Watson emerges victorious by any appreciable margin, it means renewed hope and courage for "the allies" who have pooled their resources and made common cause of their opposition to the leading candidate.

"SASSES" JUDGE, GETS 1,130 DAYS

SANDUSKY, O., May 8.—"Sassing" Municipal Judge Claude J. Minor proved costly for John Fogleman, 40, of Port Clinton, who today is in solitary confinement in the city prison and will remain there for 1,130 days.

Fogleman appeared before Judge Minor on a charge of drunkenness. When requested to stand up he refused. When questioned he answered with remarks such as "go jump in the lake."

Judge Minor laid his watch on the bench and told Fogleman he was going to give him ten days for every minute that elapsed until he stood up. The prisoner sat through the whole session of court. The court then added up the minutes and charged the prisoner with 113 counts for which judgement was pronounced accordingly.

J. D. LARKINS PLACE, MARKET STREET, SOLD

Gus Alexander and George Jameson Get Restaurant.

PLAN REMODELING

Two-story Business Structure Involved in Deal.

Sale of the James D. Larkins restaurant, Market street, to Gus D. Alexander and George Jameson, owners of the Buffalo Confectionery in the Diamond, was announced today.

The deal includes both the building, a two-story brick and tile structure and the business. The new owners will remodel the building, providing a new entrance to the banquet hall on the second floor, and make other minor changes. They will take charge the latter part of the week.

The building was erected 15 years ago by David McKernan, who for five years operated it as the American restaurant. Ten years ago the place was purchased by James D. Larkins and his father, the late James Larkins.

The name of the place will be the American restaurant after the new owners assume charge.

Purchase of the business will in no way interfere with the operation of the Buffalo confectionery, according to Alexander.

Alexander is an experienced restaurant man, having operated the Crystal restaurant, in East Sixth street, for about 15 years. Four years ago he took over the confectionery after he sold the Sixth street restaurant.

Larkins said today that he planned to take his family on a motor trip through the west, during which he will visit Yellowstone National park and other points of interest. He will return here in the summer but his plans for the future have not been made. He came to East Liverpool in 1900 and for 18 years was engaged in the restaurant business in second street before moving to the up-town location.

Cleveland Capitalist Dies.

CLEVELAND, May 8.—Edward W. Moore, 64, capitalist and pioneer Cleveland traction magnate died in his home here today following a long illness.

They said, "In Indiana it will be different."

Today will tell the story. The result in Indiana will not be decisive in itself, but it may very well prove a highly determining factor in the struggle that lies ahead at Kansas City.

Senator Watson has advised his friends in Washington that he will win. He has campaigned the state with his customary vigor, and his personal organization, variously estimated at around 100,000 votes, is said to be largely intact. He expects to lose some of the larger cities in the state, but he also expects to make up for that in the rural districts. Indiana is more rural than Ohio, and sentiment for the McNary-Jaeger bill is believed to be more solid than was the case across the line to the east.

Watson was a leader in the fight to enact the bill, while Hoover, rightly or wrongly, has been accused of having influenced the Coolidge veto of the measure.

Hoover Has 332 Delegates.

W. W. HARKER, 71, BANKER AND POTTERY OWNER, DIES IN HOME

Ceramic Manufacturer Had Been Ill for Two Years.

LEAVES WIDOW

Funeral Will be Conducted at 2 p. m. Thursday.

William W. Harker, 71, president of the Harker Pottery company and for 19 years president of the Pottery National Bank, died in his home, College and East Third streets yesterday afternoon after two years' illness. He had been confined to his home for six months as a result of arthritis, which was the immediate cause of his death.

Mr. Harker was born in East Liverpool in 1857 upon practically the site of his present home, being a son of Benjamin Harker, Jr., whose father, Benjamin Harker, built the original Harker pottery in 1811. He attended school in Pittsburgh and in 1877 became the active head of the George S. Harker & Company pottery. He was elected president of the company in 1889 when the Harker company was incorporated, holding that position until the time of his death.

He was elected president of the Pottery National bank in 1909 and held the place until January 1, 1923, when he resigned upon the acceptance of resignation because of failing health. He was indirectly associated with many other business enterprises in the city and active in the growth of the pottery industry and banking business for approximately 50 years.

He married Miss Hannah L. Laughlin in 1878. Two children died in infancy and Robert W. Harker, a son, died about a year ago. Besides his widow, he is survived by two brothers, Hal N. and David B. Harker, and one sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Newell all of East Liverpool and a daughter-in-law, Mrs. Robert W. Harker.

He was baptized in the Presbyterian faith and has been a faithful supporter of that church for many years. (Continued on Page 8, Column 2)

BANDITS LOOT INDIANA BANK

Hold President of Institution Captive for Five Hours.

ANGOLA, Indiana, May 8.—One of the most daring bank robberies in the history of northwestern Indiana was staged today when seven bandits looted the First National bank here after holding E. F. Croxton, president of the bank, a captive for more than five hours.

The bandits escaped with an undetermined amount of money.

The bandits left here in a large touring car and were believed to be heading toward Toledo, Ohio. Armed posses are scouring northeastern Indiana and western Ohio for the bandits.

practical politicians of Washington, is the effect which recent Republican scandals in Indiana has had in the popular mind. More than a dozen Republicans and office holders in Indiana have either been indicted or sent to jail in the last few years, and white Watson has never personally been touched by these scandals.

If the voters hold Watson, as head of the organization, responsible it may mean a Hoover victory. If not, then the hard-boiled politicians of the capital do not believe Hoover can defeat one of the most powerful state machines in the country.

Hoover enters the voting in Indiana today with a total of approximately 332 committed delegates out of the 1,000 that will make up the Kansas City convention. Should he win Indiana's 33, it would bring his score to date to 365, or only 150 short of the required majority.

COUNCIL CALLS FOR WORK ON SMITH STREET

Service-director Seeks Bids on Dwell-ing.

SURFACING JOB

Plan to Speed Opening Thorough to Lincoln Ave.

Work on the opening of Sixth street from Green lane through to Lincoln avenue was ordered by city council last night when Service-Safety Director John W. Moore was instructed to advertise for bids and contract for the sale of the two-story residence property at 667 Lincoln avenue, recently purchased from Charles McNicol.

According to the legislation approved by the solons, the building must be moved from the site within 60 days. Plans and specifications for surfacing of the street over the newly acquired right of way and also the repair of the old section have been prepared by City Engineer Flay Clapsdale.

Two other resolutions, one authorizing the service-safety director to contract for the repair of the boiler at the municipal water works plant and another to provide for the payment of a claim of $96.58, which is said to have been illegally assessed against the property of Mary A. Brindley, were passed on three readings.

Notices of assessment for the improvement of Briar alley, St. John's street, Thompson avenue, Etna alley, Garfield street, Stewart street and Dalsey alley were also adopted by the solons.

Hay T. Adam, real estate dealer, asking for the acceptance of a subdivision near St. Clair avenue, opposite the Riverview cemetery, Adam stated that the planning commission has refused to approve the plat. Councilmen voted to visit the subdivision Wednesday evening, after which they will caucus in the office of Solicitor Frank Hoover.

TARIFF EXPERT AND F. J. HAYNES TO ENTER "RUN OFF" CONTEST

Sixteen Others are Unopposed in U. S. Chamber Election.

CAPITAL MEETING

Directorship of Sixth District is Prize at Stake.

Race between W. E. Wells, tariff expert and secretary-treasurer and general manager of the Homer Laughlin China company, and Frederick J. Haynes, chairman of the board of directors of the Dodge Motor company, Detroit, for the office of director of the United States Chamber of Commerce from the Ohio-Indiana-Illinois-Michigan-Wisconsin district, resulted in a tie vote at the annual session in Washington yesterday afternoon.

The "run off" election will be held Friday morning.

Two Candidates Dropped.

Wells and Haynes each polled 175 votes in the elimination contest Monday morning. It is the first time in the history of the United States chamber that a tie vote has occurred for any office.

C. M. Saum, of the Saum & Kraft, attorneys, of Watseka, Ill., and Mark Selby, treasurer of the Selby Shoe company, of Portsmouth, were the two candidates who were dropped from the list yesterday morning. The convention hall, according to Wells' supporters who returned home today, was turned into a uproar when announcement was made of the tie.

Spirited Contest

The fight for this office has been one of the most spirited in the history of the Chamber. Haynes, incumbent, is backed by automobile and allied industries. Many of the southern and eastern delegates are said to have been swayed to the support of the Newell man during the last few days. Nomination for this office is equivalent to the election.

Secretary H. B. Barth, of the East Liverpool Chamber, J. M. Wells, president of the United States Pottery association and a son of the candidate, and T. A. McNicol, head of the T. A. McNicol Pottery company, were members of the organization directing Wells' campaign returned to East Liverpool today. They will return to Washington probably tomorrow to be present when the "run-off" occurs.

George C. Mitchell, an official of the Pope-Gosser China company at Coshocton, is in charge of Wells' headquarters in the New Willard Hotel during the absence of Barth.

OFFICER GETS ENFORCED REST

Patrolman Smith is Suspended for Five Days.

Patrolman Chester C. Smith was given a five-day suspension by Service-Safety Director John W. Moore yesterday afternoon upon a charge of insubordination.

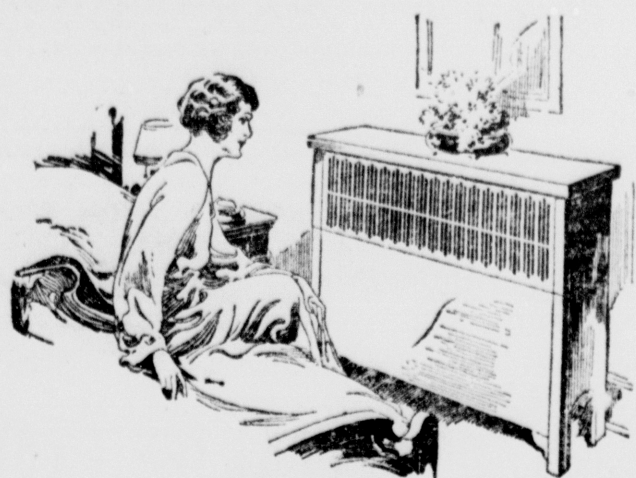

Smith is alleged to have back-pedaled upon information filed against a man whom he arrested in Market street Saturday night. When the prisoner was taken to the City hall, Smith is said to have asked Director Moore, who was at the police desk, to file a charge of operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated. When the prisoner was arraigned before Municipal Judge Hanley, Sunday, he denied being in the car when he was arrested.

The patrolman told Judge Hanley over the telephone later that the man was pushing his automobile along the street in an effort to get it started when he was taken into custody and that the mistake had been made by the desk man at the city hall in writing the charge.

Smith was summoned to the mayor's office yesterday afternoon, where he met with Mayor Benedum, Service-Safety Director Moore, Chief of Police McDermott and Captain Mason Conley. Upon the director's orders he turned his gun, badge and other equipment over to the police chief. He will return to work next Saturday.

Smith is the second member of the police force to draw a suspension during the last two months.

One Cent a Day Brings $100 a Month

Thousands Taking Advantage of Liberal Insurance Offer. Policy Sent Free for Inspection.

Kansas City, Mo.—Accident insurance at a cost of one cent a day is being featured in a policy issued by the National Protective Insurance Association.

The benefits are $100 a month for 12 months—$1,200 at death. The premium is only $3.65 a year or exactly one cent a day. Women, as well as men, are eligible for this policy. It also applies to children who are ten years of age or over. No medical examination is required. This insurance may be carried in addition to insurance in any other company.

Send No Money.

To secure 10 days' free inspection of policy send no money. Mail the National Protective Insurance Association, 1262 Searritt Bldg., Kansas City, Mo., the following information: Name, age, address, beneficiary's name and relationship. After reading the policy you may either return it without obligation or send $3.65 to put policy in force.—Adv.

"Present-day dancing does not make for poise or grace in walking and general deportment," says Miss Vanburgh. "I realized the necessity for the study of poise when I was present at a recent political meeting. One speaker, a clever girl, made a wonderful speech but she lacked poise and was dressed unbecomingly. That is why I am specializing in giving these lessons to girls beginning a professional career as well as to the society girl about to make her society debut."

Board of Censors For Church Plays Named in England

LONDON.—A board of censors to censor sacred plays for churches, the first body of the kind in England, has been constituted here.

Appointed by the Bishop of Southwark, London, the Board consists of three members, who will examine

The Bishop feels that nothing of a secular character should be performed in church, and the duties of the board will be to see that any plays presented are of a purely religious nature and based on his writings of the Bible.

Turkish College Students Boost Native Tongue

CONSTANTINOPLE.—"Citizens, speak Turkish," is the slogan of a movement started recently by university students to make Turkish the only language spoken here. Notices bearing these words have been placarded in the post offices, trains, trams and boats.

The movement is principally directed against Jews, Greeks, Armenians under Turkish subjection, and certain extreme partisans of the movement have gone so far as to interrupt conversations being carried on in public places in the foreign tongues. This behaviour has resulted in many regrettable incidents.

Prince of Wales Comes to Aid of Injured Comrades

LONDON.—A few moments after winning the Royal Naval Hunt Club race at the South Nottingham point-to-point, the Prince of Wales figured in the role of doctor. He had dismounted, and was just entering the weighing room when he was told that one of his rivals, Captain Alexander, had broken his collarbone.

No doctor was present at that moment, and the Prince promptly attended to Captain Alexander's injuries, explaining that he had learned how to "fix it" from his doctor when he himself was similarly injured some years ago.

Another naval officer seriously injured his ribs in the same race, and the Prince also went to his aid.

need painters and carpenters; new acts and novelties must be secured to keep abreast of the times; a new route must be laid out and considered and to this the management must know the population and character of every town, have information of the business conditions, vicissitudes of the year, etc.

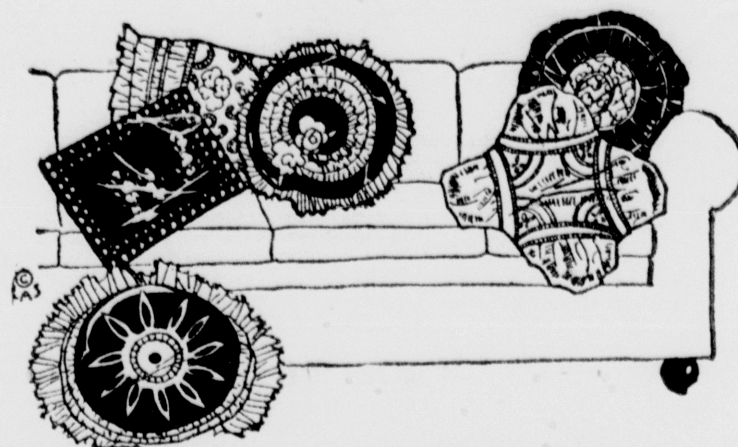

The question of transportation is the most careful one involved. For instance up in agricultural Vermont, Windsor county, nestles the village of White River Jct. It boasts of a weekly newspaper, a public school and a national bank. Its population does not exceed 1,500. Yet, the Gentry Bros. Shows, and a few other of the big tented organizations make an annual pilgrimage thither because it is a local trade center, three railroads converging upon it, in addition to two rivers. Ordinarily the town would not afford enough patrons to pay for the feet of the horses and elephants, but the throngs conveyed there by train and boat always fill the tents.

Not in any way does the Gentry Bros. show of the present season resemble the show of other years. Men, women and horses with the great institution number almost 700. At night the big show is transported from town to town aboard special trains. The Gentry Bros. Shows will give performances at 2 and 8 p. m. in East Liverpool on Saturday, May 12.

Edwin Arlington Robinson receives the $1,000 award for the best volume of verse of the year. The prize-winning volume is "Tristram." Nelson Harding, of the Brooklyn Eagle, receives the $500 award for the best cartoon, for the second time.

Two Prizes Not Awarded.

Vernon Louis Parrington wins the $2,000 prize for the best volume of the year on the history of the United States for his two-volume work, "Main Currents in American Thought."

Neither the $1,000 award for the best newspaper story of the year nor the $1,000 prize for a history of the services rendered the American republic by the press was given out this year.

The Indianapolis Times is winner of the $500 award for "the most distinguished and meritorious public service" for its exposure of political corruption in Indiana. Grover Cleveland Hall, of Montgomery, Ala., takes the $500 prize for his editorials against floggings and intolerance in that state.

The biography prize, $1,000, goes to Charles Edward Russell for "The American Orchestra and Theodore Thomas."

Scholarships for a year of travel in Europe, valued at $1,500, were awarded to Philip Seckler, Alfred Dudley Britton, Jr., and Mary D. Roman, all of New York, who made highest honors in examinations of the Columbia School of Journalism. Haig Gordon Garbedian, of West New York, N. J.; Margaret C. Hoover Faces Test

In the Republican national convention. Virtually complete returns today from yesterday's primary showed the cabinet candidate for the presidency scored an easy victory. He was unopposed by any other candidate. What opposition there was to him expressed itself by a vote for an unopposed delegation.

Maryland Democrats will cast their votes for Gov. Albert C. Ritchie at Houston, and later switch over to Governor Smith whenever the Smith managers desire them. Ritchie is in favor of Smith's nomination.

Senator Wm. Cabell Bruce, Democrat, was easily renominated. Mrs. Virginia Peters-Arkhurst, his opponent, ran poorly.

Bruce will be opposed in November by Ex-Gov. Phillips Lee Goldsborough, who was unopposed for the Republican senatorial nomination.

Ritchie secured Maryland's 16 delegates in the primary yesterday. The examination was held in Ritchie's office and was completed in 20 minutes.

"WIFEKEEPER" HELD NOT TAX EXEMPT

WASHINGTON, May 8.—Cost of keeping a wife at a training camp is not "necessary business expense" for a baseball player, the U. S. board of tax appeals ruled today.

Walter Schmidt, a member of the Pittsburgh Pirates of the National League in 1921, was denied the right to deduct $660 from his income for federal tax purposes.

Signing with the pirates in 1921 at an agreed salary of $8,000 a year, Schmidt charged off his own expense as well as those of his wife and child, in traveling from Modesto, Calif., to Hot Springs, Ark., thence to Hot Springs, Ark., thence to Hot Springs, Ark.

The internal revenue bureau refused to allow the deduction, and the tax board upheld the decision.

BEGG FILES FOR GOVERNOR

Sandusky Congressman Seeks Republican Nomination.

COLUMBUS, O., May 8.—Declaration of the candidacy of Congressman James T. Begg, Sandusky, for the Republican nomination for governor was filed today with Secretary of State Clarence J. Brown by Charles Conger, Columbus, representing Begg's campaign manager.

Conger said it was planned to open Begg's headquarters May 15 in the Desher-Wallick hotel here. Begg, it was stated, has consented to deliver the "keynote" speech at the mock national Republican convention to be conducted at Oberlin college May 14. In this address Begg is expected to state his position on national and state issues including the tariff, law enforcement, the Volstead act, etc.

His declaration of candidacy was signed by Albert C. Close, George A. Schwer, Robert M. Breckenridge, W. J. O'Brien and Sidney Frohman, all of Sandusky.

Begg is the second G. O. P. gubernatorial candidate to file his declaration. Harry H. Shanley, Forest, Hardin county, filed his declaration March 5, last.

Other Republican candidates for governor, including Attorney General Edward C. Turner, are expected to file their declarations with the secretary of state within the next month.

Methodist May Assail Smith.

KANSAS CITY, May 8.—The popularity of Al Smith, presidential candidate on the Democratic ticket, does not extend to the representative body of Methodism, now in session here in its quadrennial general conference.

Interested not only in the religious progress and welfare of the country, the Methodist today are expected to announce a broadside against the New York governor and demand the Democratic party nominate a "dry" standard bearer.

The movement against Smith was organized by the New York delegation attending the conference. Today this group is expected to invite the lay and ministerial leaders from every denomination in the United States to confer Thursday night on a political campaign program demanding election of candidates who can be trusted to maintain the constitution.

One speaker from Texas already has informed the conference if Smith is nominated the action will break the Democratic party's "solid south."

Copies of the Anti-Saloon league's booklet, "Al Smith's Record," are to be distributed among the general conference delegates.

HENRY FORD PREDICTS ERA OF PROSPERITY

Business Outlook in U. S. Good, he Says.

RETURNS HOME Ford Motor Has 1,000,000 Orders on Hand.

NEW YORK, May 8.—Henry Ford predicted prosperity ahead for the United States on his arrival here today on the liner Majestic from his three weeks' visit to England. He was accompanied by Mrs. Ford.

"I am confident," Ford said, "that current prosperity in the United States will continue. The business outlook is good and there is no factor in sight to disturb its future."

Regarding the Ford Motor company's business, he said the company had on hand about 1,000,000 orders and that production was being increased as fast as possible to meet this demand.

Speaking of aviation, Ford said: "The Ford company is just beginning to enter the aviation field. We will continue to do a great deal of development and research work in the interest of protecting the American product."

Ford said he enjoyed his trip abroad. It was the first time he had been across the seas since he sailed with his famous "peace ship" in 1916. He declared that conditions in England were "very good and steadily improving."

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKETS

NEW YORK, May 8.—A raging, roaring market for the high priced speculative favorites was maintained in the first period today. Brokerage houses were swamped with outside orders for Radio, General Motors, International Combustion, General Electric, the aeroplane stocks, International Nickel, and other star performers in yesterday's hectic session. Not withstanding the memory of the present generation of stock brokers has the volume of public trading been on such a large scale as at present.

Opening 2 points lower, at $203, Radio boomed ahead to around $229 in the first half-hour. General Motors moved up fractionally and then dropped back 3 points to 205 1/2. International Combustion snapped ahead to 65 for a further 4-point gain, on reports of Durant and Cullen buying; General Electric, American Can and other favorites sold up 1 to 3 points. It was simply a repetition of the uncontrolled bullish enthusiasm running wild with the market as in recent sessions.

Considerable profit taking appeared in the industrial and motor stocks before the end of the first hour, and there were evidences that earnings reports, so long ignored, were finally being taken into consideration as a factor in determining stock values. Hudson Motors continued to move downward as the result of poorer-than-expected first quarterly income. United States Steel lost a point and Chrysler Motor was under selling pressure. Oils were irregular and rails again inactive.

Interesting to chicken men, Pennsylvania has three electric hatcheries, holding 47,000 eggs each. The eggs, put in trays at the top of a refrigerator-like arrangement, gradually sink down, as days pass, until they reach the bottom, and the chicks walk out on the twenty-first day.

Empty racks rise to the top for more eggs, and a constant stream of chicks pour from an incubator that never stops, eggs being replenished twice a week.

Cockneys are eaten. Pullets stimulated by high feeding lay early and electric lights burning in their coops keep them eating after dark and increase egg output.

When the hens, weary, slow down, they become chicken stew, and pullets replace them. A hard life, but not so different from ours. Nature gets rid of us, also, when our usefulness ends.

Real estates will gasp, reading of Chicago's new super-business building. It will be opposite the Wacker drive, 724 feet on Kinzie street, 577 feet along the river, cost $30,000,000 and have 4,000,000 square feet of floor space.

This worthy-of-Chicago building, a "mammoth merchandise mart," will devote the ground floor to a freight station, with private tracks for tenants.

On one side of the building a river dock will take in and send out goods by water.

Several hundred important merchants will do business in this building now in existence.

In politics and social theories Russia's government may indulge in dreams. But in daily life Russians are practical.

Sovietism dressed up to receive King Amanullah of Afghanistan, called him "majesty" as unctuously as we should do in plutocratic America. Afghanistan has big trade.

Russia is constructing a system of inland waterways to rival such work in France and Germany. The Volga-Dnieper waterway, now building, will give the Volga, biggest river in Europe, an outlet to the sea.

The Volga, navigable for almost its entire course, 2,300 miles, drains with its tributaries 535,000 square miles. If that region suffered such floods as afflict the Mississippi Valley, Russia would do something about it, more effective than talk.

Japan will make China regret killing Japanese soldiers at Tsinan Fu, Japanese and Chinese accuse each other of atrocities, including torture and ill treatment of women.

A Chinese official, Tsa-Kung-Tse, had his nose cut off, eyes gouged out, and then was shot to death, according to Chinese.

The Japanese can easily take revenge on China, but the latter, unable to fight Japan, will boycott Japanese merchants. The latest difficulty may cost Japan $50,000,000 in business boycotts every year until China forgets about it.

GRAND TRUNK TRAIN BANDIT SHOT TO DEATH

Willie Jackson Will Never Face Jury. For Crime.

DESERTED PALS

Place Blame on Underworld Friends of Prisoners for Murder.

CHICAGO, May 8.—Willie Jackson, object of a nation wide search as one of the bandits who robbed a Grand Trunk mail train of $133,000 here last February, will never face a jury. He was found, shot to death, in a South Side alley early today.

Jackson had been named by captured members of the gang as the custodian of most of the loot. A single pistol bullet, fired into the back of his head, ended his life. He lay face up beside a new automobile bearing the New York license number 2P-3886.

Keys to the car were found in the dead man's pocket. He was garbed in expensive clothes and wore a gray felt hat purchased in Olean, N. Y.

Jackson was identified through the fingerprint record at the bureau of identification.

Entrusted With Loot, Police Say.

The slain bandit, according to police, had been named by "Limpin" Charlie Cleaver, leader of the Grand Trunk mail robbery gang, as one of two men who had been entrusted with the job of hiding the loot.

Virgil Litsinger was the other man named, police said. All but two men had been accounted for. Police trailed them to central Illinois, thence to St. Louis and finally to New Orleans where the trail was lost.

It is believed Jackson went to New York and lived high while his comrades in the crime languished in jail, unable to raise high bonds. These men, Cleaver, William Donovan and Frank Meccia, asked often about Jackson and Litsinger, according to jail attaches, and swore savagely when told nothing had been heard from them.

The police theory is that underworld friends of the double-crossed bandits finally located Jackson, despite his careful attempts to disguise himself, and meted out the summary justice of gangland.

In Cleaver's home $17,600 of the loot was found. The rest of it, according to the men under arrest, was entrusted to Jackson and Litsinger. A renewed search for the cache of missing currency was started in the neighborhood in which Jackson's body was found.

TELEPHONE CALL SAVES DWELLING

DAYTON, O., May 8.—The Dayton fire department today claimed a record for saving a dwelling house from flames via long distance fire alarms.

Miss Mary A. Kreager left her Dayton home for a visit with Gallop, O., friends. That night, many hours later, she recalled having left her electric iron on in her home. She called up the Dayton fire department over the long distance telephone.

A fire company visited Miss Kreager's home to find the electric iron had burned its way into the ironing board, which was ready to burst into flames.

TRUAX SEEKS SENATORSHIP

State Director Enters Dem Race—Fess Will File.

LANCASTER, O., May 8.—Charles V. Truax, of Bucyrus, state director of agriculture, was today formally in the race for the Democratic nomination for United States senator for the full six-year term beginning March 4, next year. Truax's formal announcement for the senate brought the list of active candidates up to three. He is opposed by George White, of Marietta, former congressman, and Charles Wharton, of Kenyon.

U. S. Senator Cyrus Locher, Cleveland, Democrat, who was director of commerce of Ohio when Governor Vic Donahey, last month, appointed him as senator, due to the death of the late U. S. Senator Frank B. Willis, has announced that he will be a candidate to succeed himself for the short term beginning December 15, next, and ending March 4, 1933, being the unexpired portion of the six-year term to which Willis was elected in November, 1926.

Marshall, Ohio supreme court, recently announced that he will be a Republican candidate for U. S. senator. Other Republicans are expected to announce their senatorial candidacies soon.

The county health board is now composed of Mr. Smith, Washington township; W. H. Hepburn, Centre township; Dr. Harry Bookwalter, Salem township; John E. Eiferd, St. Clair township; R. E. Whinnery, Butler township.

In presenting his annual report, Health Commissioner Church declared that the ultimate objectives of the board was to increase the average length of life, decrease the general and specific mortality rates, decrease the morbidity rates of specific preventable diseases and to conserve and increase vitality.

Aim to Protect Child. "We feel that every child should be protected and we also feel proud of the fact that our registration is as good as it is," Dr. Church said.

"To encourage each mother to have her child's birth recorded, we issue a mother's certificate which gives the name of the child, date of birth, district number, maiden name of mother, name of father, and residence. We are always pleased when mothers inquire for this certificate, if they do not receive it as promptly as they think they should.

"Health departments were born in fear—fear of epidemics, and it is not so long ago that epidemics of yellow fever, smallpox, cholera, typhoid fever, diphtheria and scarlet fever decimated the communities. Some of the diseases have been controlled by sanitation, some by the destruction of insect carriers and others by immunization, so that the situation now depends mainly on our intelligence in making use of these measures that have been found to protect us.

"In order that the health departments may be of some use in giving health supervision and aid in the control of communicable diseases, they must have knowledge of the whereabouts of the different diseases, and the cooperation of the members of the communities concerned.

Warns of Bad Teeth, Tonsils. "It is not uncommon nowadays to hear of sudden deaths of people of 50 and older, and the cause of the death is put down as heart disease. Why should the heart suddenly stop? Experience has taught us that the most common cause is diseased teeth and tonsils, and because the teeth and tonsils are neglected in childhood, the man's life is cut off before he has lived out his natural expectancy. "When school examinations were first made and the attention of parents was called to the defects that were found, they were apt to resent it as an interference with their own private affairs. But, as time has gone on, they are more and more coming to see the benefits accruing to the child by giving at least as good care to him as they would to the prize animals on the place.

"Last summer the Lisbon Parent-Teacher association staged a preschool roundup of all children expecting to enter school in the fall. Of the 50 children examined, only three were found without some defect. This was probably a surprise to many parents, but unless they had defects corrected, the examination was only a waste of time.

"As far as we had time and the roads permitted, Schick testing was done in the schools, with the consent of the parents. Those found liable to contract diphtheria were immunized. In the examination of 1,749 pupils during the last year we found 2,489 defects."

There were 371 communicable diseases reported to the county health board last year, chickenpox leading with 133.

Scarlet fever was second with 74 cases. There were 60 cases of communicable diseases reported last October, the record month.

Indigestion Immediate Relief!

What most people call indigestion is usually excess acid in the stomach. The food has soured. The instant remedy is an alkali which neutralizes acids. But don't use crude helps. Use what your doctor would advise.

The best help is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. For the 50 years since its invention it has remained standard with physicians. You will find nothing else so quick in its effect, so harmless, so efficient.

One tasteless spoonful in water neutralizes many times its volume in acid. The results are immediate, with no bad after-effects. Once you learn this fact, you will never deal with excess acid in the crude ways. Go learn now—why this method is supreme. Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle—any drugstore.

"Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical company and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1875.

Club Parlors True Type Of Recreation Center

Provide Real Entertainment Under Clean, Wholesome Environment; Best of Equipment Used by Management.

The Club Billiard Parlors, under the management of Fred Strabley, today stand out as one of the cleanest, most modern and up-to-date recreation centers in the entire district.

Under capable supervision and maintained for the purpose for which it was established—clean, wholesome sport under proper conditions—the Club Billiard Parlors provide the means for entertainment of men and young men that are lacking in many cities of the size.

The establishment has been under the management of Mr.
Strabley for more than ten years.

It was opened at first under the name of the Liberty Billiard Parlors. For a short time Strabley left the business, but returned a year or so ago and after renovating the interior and placing it in first class condition, resumed charge.

The Club Billiard Parlors offer the best obtainable, Mr. Strabley says, in the way of tables and equipment in general.

Explaining that Willie Hoppe, Jake
Schaffer and other famous experts with the cue find Bruns' k equipment adequate for the marksmanship that has made them national favorites, Strabley has installed Brunswick tables and equipment throughout his establishment.

The Club Billiard Parlors, consequently, have six tables of unimpeachable quality, four for pocket billiards and two for the cushion type of billiards.

Last winter Strabley organized and operated the city's first three-cushion billiard league, with eight entrants and, he announces, plans are under way for the organization next fall of one of the biggest leagues of this kind ever attempted in the city, taking in the best billiard players in the entire district.

At the present time, the Club Billiard Parlors are headquarters for baseball followers.

The Club parlors, through a special ticket service, receive scores of all major league games by innings, with the highlights added. Pitching chances, home runs and other such outstanding occurrences are noted as they happen on the field.

The Club Parlors also are entered in the local recreation softball league, contributing to the growth of this popular circuit while many of the soft ball enthusiasts make their headquarters there.

Special lighting fixtures aid in making the Club Parlors an attractive recreation center, and, as well, the furniture and other equipment such as overstuffed chairs and lounges, which all combine to elevate the business above the level of merely a "pool room." Everything has been done by the management to place the business on a high plane and their efforts are meeting success.

70 AT CLASS BANQUET HERE

Christian Church Men's Unit Gives Program.

Approximately 70 members of the Men's Bible class of the First Christian church attended the monthly dinner and get-together meeting last night in the church dining room.

The dinner was served in Italian style and consequently, the feature of the menu was spaghetti.

The entertainment program was in charge of T. C. Campbell and John Leatherberry.

Chief address was made by Rev. W. H. Baker, pastor of the First Church of Christ, East Liverpool. Rev. D. E. Young, pastor of the local church, presided as toastmaster.

C. E. Felton, of Lisbon, Columbiana county Boy Scout executive, and two entertainers from Rock Springs park, "Red" Friddle and "Happy" Collins, were among the special guests.

Short talk was given by Graham Keevil, pastor of the Salineville Christian church. Orchestra music added to the variety of the entertainment. The dinner was served by members of the Loyal Women's Sunday school class.

PARTHENON CLASS IS ENTERTAINED

Mrs. Fred Feldman was hostess to members of the Parthenon Sunday school class of the First Methodist Episcopal church last evening at her home in Aten avenue, with Miss Jean Fogo co-hostess.

Following the business session, the class held an hour's Bible study, in charge of the teacher, Mrs. Mary Hammond.

Games and contests were diversions during the social hours. A unique entertainment was provided by a "magician," titled "Who Did It?"

Luncheon was served by the hostesses.

A "PECK" OF MEDICINE DID NO GOOD

But ALL-BRAN brought natural relief

Read what Kellogg's ALL-BRAN did for Mr. Hamilton—a chronic sufferer from constipation.

"I am 55 years old and truly believe I have taken a peck of medicine, costing a good many dollars, for constipation, and all I got was temporary relief. Now since I began taking your ALL-BRAN I have had a bowel movement (with a single exception, and that was my fault) every day. From a grateful user of your ALL-BRAN."

W. N. HAMILTON, Export, Penna.

Constipation causes headaches, blotchy skin, sleeplessness, spots before the eyes. It is a factor of more than forty serious diseases.

Guard against it. ALL-BRAN is guaranteed to relieve constipation. Two tablespoonsful daily—chronic cases, with every meal. Doctors recommend Kellogg's because it is 100% bran. Because it is much more effective than part-bran products could possibly be.

A health cereal too! Serve with milk or cream—and add fruits or honey. Use in cooking. Recipes on every package. Sold by all grocers. Served everywhere. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Taylor And Kendlar Fail To Settle Problem Of Superiority

Indians Get First Real Test

Begin Four-game Series With Slugging Yanks.

By Les Conklin.
NEW YORK, May 8. — Cleveland, the strongest western team in the American league, will undergo its first real test of the season today when it begins a four-game series with the league-leading Yankees here. Although they committed a grave tactical error by dropping a game to the Red Sox, the Indians are the only western outfit to get better than an even break during the eastern invasion. Yesterday they trimmed Boston, 4 to 2.

Connie Mack's Athletics, who made a clean sweep against Detroit, today begin a series with St. Louis which should furnish the low-down on the real strength of the Browns. The Browns looked like the real McCoy yesterday in slugging three Washington pitchers for 17 hits, winning 15 to 2 and squaring the series.

Carroll, Detroit's star pitcher, proved he could take it by staying in the box while the Athletics nipped him for seven straight hits in the second inning. Ty Cobb then drove in another run and the A's went on to win by a 10 to 6 count.

Al Thomas of the White Sox tried to come back against the Yankees but was kayoed for the second time during the series, the champions getting an 8 to 5 verdict. Robertson, Meusel and Barrett hit homers.

The National league race continues to be a free-for-all with the league-leading Giants only 2 1/2 games in front of the Cubs and the Cardinals, who are tied for fifth place. The Giants squared the series and held on to first place by downing Cincinnati, 5 to 1.

Today the Giants clash with the Pirates, who tied Brooklyn for third place yesterday by smothering Boston, 9 to 4. Despite Bissonette's sixth home run of the season, tying Babe Ruth's record, Brooklyn lost a ding-dong contest to St. Louis, 6 to 5.

Brooklyn and the Cardinals broke even in their series. Pittsburgh won three out of four from Boston and the Chicago Cubs made a clean sweep against the Phillies by winning the final game, 7 to 4.

All Outdoors

And Where to go—By James W. Stuber

Editor's Note—This is the first of a series of weekly articles on conservation and on where to go for good hunting and fishing, and other forms of outdoor recreation written for International News Service and The Review by James W. Stuber, well known authority on the Out-of-Doors. Mr. Stuber has been actively interested in forest, game and wild life conservation not only in Ohio but in a national way for many years. He is a member of the editorial staff of Sportsman's Digest, secretary of the Ohio Conservation Council, secretary of the League of Ohio Sportsmen, a member of the American Game Protective association, and also a member of the Outdoor Writers' Association of America. His articles on big game hunting, fishing, campcraft, woodcraft, and conservation appear in many leading outdoor magazines and newspapers in the United States and Canada.

Two hundred million dollars were spent by sportsmen and tourists from the United States in Canada last year, according to reports from Canadian authorities. This enormous sum was spent for sport in one form or another. A large portion was spent by hunters and fishermen from this side of the border. The amount staggers the imagination, but it shows the interest in outdoor recreation in America. Her forests, her parks, her resources of fish and game to attract American outdoor men and women is said to be Canada's third largest revenue producing asset. At least 50 per cent of the $200,000,000 came from the middle western states of which Ohio is one, and Ohio probably contributes as much of the $200,000,000 as any other state unless it be Illinois or New York.

There are 6,500,000 licensed hunters in the United States according to the American Game Protective association. Some authorities say there are 30,000,000 fishermen in the United States. More and more each year Americans are seeking recreation in the outdoors. And there is no greater incentive to take men and women to the outdoors than good hunting and fishing. Our pioneer forefathers hunted and fished through necessity, to provide themselves with food and clothing. The American of today hunts and fishes for recreation. Throughout the United States sportsmen and nature lovers are organizing fish and game protective associations and Isaac Walton chapters, for the purpose of conserving the resources of fish, game, forests and pure water.

Ohio alone has at least 100,000 organized sportsmen who have banded together in organizations of one kind or another with ideals of true sportsmanship, through which they are promoting respect for the land owners' rights, and conservation of wild life, along with their desire to enjoy a reasonable amount of hunting and fishing, as a means of outdoor recreation. Ohio has in the neighborhood of 100,000 licensed hunters, and some authorities say there are half a million fishermen in the Buckeye state

7 Scraps Lined Up By Foutts

Mitchell Decides he Will Fight in Alliance.

FEATURING some of the best amateur leather pushers in this section of the valley, the seven scrap card being arranged by Promoter Ray Foutts for Wellsville Thursday night should live up to "all-action" predictions.

Foutts today announced that it would be necessary for him to obtain an opponent for Ray Mitchell, East Liverpool welterweight, who will fight Rip Shirley of Canton on the same night in Alliance.

Mitchell signed a contract, it appears, with Foutts for a six-round scrap with Freddy Edwards of Chester but yesterday announced he would fight in Canton.

Managers and promoters have been having a terrible time trying to get the thing straightened out. First "Mitch" signed a Foutts contract. Then he decided he'd fight in Alliance. Next Foutts showed him that contract again and the welterweight pledged his appearance on the Wellsville card. Yesterday, it was announced, Mitchell had decided to fight in Alliance.

So, today, Foutts was looking around for a suitable opponent for the West Virginian, and expects to have a good man lined up before the day is over.

ORGANIZE JUNIOR SOFT BALL LOOP

Harvey J. Price, "Y" boys work director, today announced completion of the organization of the Junior soft ball league.

The following entries have qualified: Indians, Columbian Squires, Pirates, Ceramics, Roamers, Silents and M. P.

Other teams will be welcomed at a meeting to be held on Friday night when final arrangements for the season will be made.

Play will be started Monday, with diamonds located at city park, playground and the "knob."

Slambang Ends Scrap With Fractured Ribs

McKeesporter Under Handicap in Closing Rounds; McCarthy Breaks Thumb With Vivio in Semi-final Bout.

Representing two diametrically opposed types of fighters, with one exception—the power to punch—Harry "Slambang" Taylor of McKeesport and Al Kendlar of Alliance last night fought eight rugged rounds in the main bout of the Eagles' City Baseball League benefit and went away at the end of it with the question of superiority in somewhat the same state of affairs as it was before they started.

Taylor finished the fight with two cracked ribs but said nothing until his manager, Eddie Mahan, announced the fact at the close of the battle. Dr. Frank Harrison, official fight physician for the F. O. E., examined Taylor after the battle and verified Mahan's announcement of the cracked ribs.

In fact there were two casualties on last night's bill. Jack McCarthy, of Pittsburgh, fighting Young Vivio in the six round semi-final, fractured the thumb on his right hand in the second round and the snap was taken out of this milt for the remainder of the distance. Both McCarthy and Taylor were given medical attention at the close of the show.

The edge, if any, goes to Kendlar in the main bout. He finished fresher and stronger, aided by his seven pounds advantage in weight, and with more clean cut points to lit credits in the final round. Which was natural enough in view of the fact that Taylor was forced to play a defensive game in the last two or three cantos.

Every blow to his body was punishment to the Slambang boy in those closing rounds. His left was needed to cover his injured side as much as possible and, as a result, was not swung with the customary dash and power of the Taylor style.

Taylor was weakened considerably by his handicap in close quarters, too, protecting his side and taking a lot of hammering on the face.

The first two rounds were as even as they make them, although marred on several occasions by claims of low punching on both sides. The third was Taylor's.

LODGEMEN AID BASEBALL

The Eagles' lodge last night contributed to the City Industrial Baseball league's financial campaign for 1928 current expenses a sum of approximately $200 as a result of the benefit fight program which featured two of the best scraps on one card this season.

The services of Matchmaker Tom McDonough were tendered gratis for the occasion and McDonough also refereed the series of four scraps.

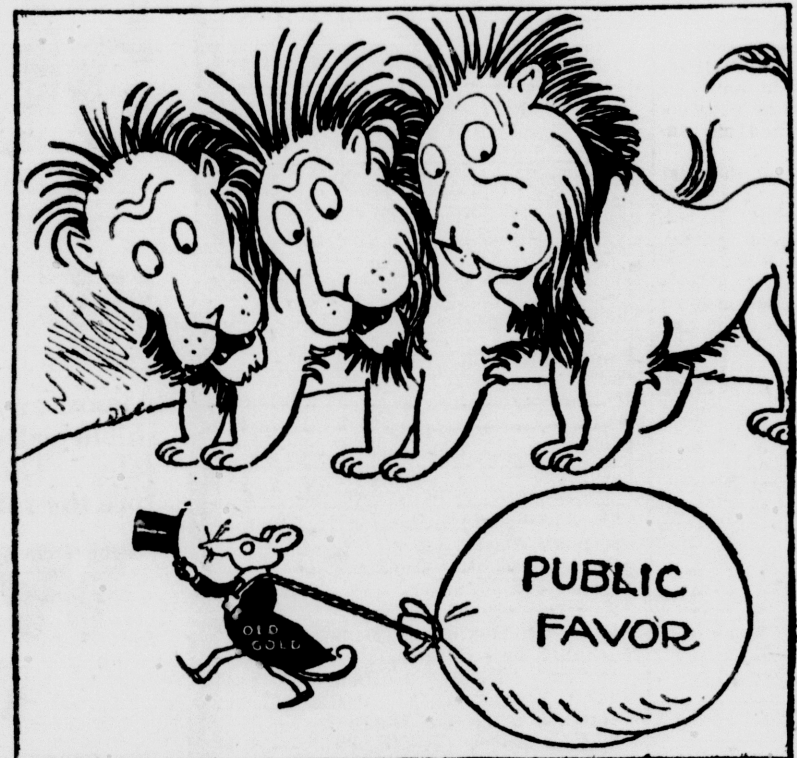

The lodgemen also gave the use of their auditorium for the occasion and the customary force of ushers and ticket takers were on the job. President C. W. Davis of the league today publicly expressed his appreciation for the services of the lodgemen.

Kendlar took the fourth and earned the edge in the seventh and eighth.

Kendlar is a rugged type, although his style does not appeal to local fight addicts. Taylor in his best condition would have a job sufficiently strenuous, and as it was, it is not logical that he could do much with the Alliance slugger.

McCarthy is injured. Virtually the same conditions prevailed in the six-round semi-final with Vivio earning a shade in the final rounds.

The scrap started out as a slugger (Continued on Page Thirteen)

Turk Nash Victor In Slugging Bee With Newell Tossers, 12-5

Three Hit for Circuit; Deshler is Slab Winner

Extra Base Bingles Plentiful as Rivals Open on Laughlin Lot; West Virginians' Support Erratic.

FOUNDING the offerings of Dugman for 12 safe bingles, Turk Nash won from Laughlin in a City league battle last night at Newell. The count was 12 to 5.

The Turk Nash swatters found the offerings of the West Virginia hurler much to their liking, with Webber and d. Smittle crashing out homers. "Sonny" Deshler, Turk Nash slapper, also had a big day at bat, collecting a triple and a double in his four attempts.

Deshler held the opposition to a single run up to the fifth when Laughlin made it two. The 1927 runner-up then scored again in the sixth and added two in the seventh.

Deshler was given faultless support in the field while six miscues were charged to Laughlin support. Bill Merchant, former K. P. K. infielder, and Mosser were the heavy hitters for Laughlin. Merchant smacked out two singles and a homer in three trials, while Mosser banged out a single and a triple, his single scoring Morgan in the first and his three-sacker chasing Finley to the plate in the sixth.

The game started out as a slugging bee. Webber, first man up, smashed out a home run through center. The Motors failed again on Auderheide's single, McMath's sacrifice and two errors.

Laughlin scored in the first also when Morgan walked, went to second on Watson's sacrifice, took third as Sayre threw Densmore out at first and came home on Mosser's screaming single over McMath's head.

The Motors scored again in the second on Mundy's single past third. Munday was safe at second and Deshler at first when Finley dropped Deshler's line drive. Both advance on Mundy's sacrifice and Mundy counted as Densmore threw out Webber at first. Smittle, third up in the fourth, batted out the second home run of the game through center field. Hits by Watson, Deshler, Maley and Auderheide, together with Mundy's sacrifice, produced two more runs for Turk Nash.

Merchant's single, Rubin's sacrifice and Dugman's double gave Laughlin a run in the fifth. Dugman's clout was good for a four-bagger but he was called out for not touching third.

Finley singled and Mosser tripped to produce another Laughlin run in the sixth.

Turk Nash bats out loose again in the seventh when four more runs crossed the plate. Bailey was safe on Merchant's error. Sayre and Watson binned safely in succession and all three came home on Deshler's three-sacker clout. Deshler finished on Maley's double to center.

Joe Dickey's squad scored the last two runs of the game. Merchant first up, clouted one for the circuit. Rabaldi singled through third, stole second, went to third on Dugman's sacrifice and stole home, beating Deshler's heave to the plate. Finley's catch of Smittle's fly in the seventh was the principal fielding feature.

At Jersey City.
James J. Bradlock, North Bergen, N. J. light heavyweight, kayaked Jack Darnell, Washington, D. C. (4).

Match with the two slugging rights and lefts with reckless abandon in close quarters. Honors were even for the first four rounds. After that McCarthy apparently lacked the inclination to trade punches with his vigor of the opening stanzas.
Vivio became more aggressive in the closing rounds and, as well, brought into use as clever a defense program as anybody on the card. Both had power in either mitt and all though they socked hard and frequently, both, as well, were too rugged to be weakened over the short route.
Elzie Hohman of East Liverpool and Paul McCrae of Wellsville drew in the second four-round preliminary.
The curtain raiser, scheduled for four rounds, between "Cheese" Plant and Lee Smith, lightweights, was stopped by Referee McDonough in the third with both even and both lads pretty well speckled with gore from hammered noses.
Matchmaker Tom McDonough was the third man in the ring last night and his work was well liked by the crowd of 600 or more who saw the closing card.

Sinclair Horse is Favorite

Nassak Top List for Preakness at Pimlico.

By Davis J. Walsh.

NEW YORK, May 8.—In a bit more than seventy-two hours, they will be parading a lot of important horseflesh to the post for the annual running of the Preakness at Pimlico, Md., and the good word today is that Nassak can't miss being the reigning favorite of the day and race. However, I believe there is an understanding at some race tracks that the favorite isn't compelled to win and maybe this one won't, in which case a very absorbing circumstance will have to be filed away with last year's menu of the housing luncheon given by the Alumni at the dear old business college.

For, if Nassak can be chivied down to the wire, the Maryland racing commission will be afforded the great pleasure of moving briskly forward in a body and offering its congratulations to the owners of the horse, Harry F. Sinclair. That is one of the things they do when a horse wins a big stake race and the racing commission has come to regard the moment as one of its pleasurable duties, the other being the setting down of a rider who makes winning too often or too seldom.

It is taken for granted that Maryland's stewards will be pleased to offer their congratulations in this case; in fact, precedent demands that they be extremely gratified. On such an occasion, the spokesman's opening words are invariably to the effect that it gives him great pleasure and so forth, and even the fact that the Maryland racing commission only a few weeks ago declared Harry F. Sinclair to be au de vinagar at their race tracks, won't alter the script by a syllable.

Now that Sinclair's horses have been reinstated on Maryland tracks, Nassak has better than an even chance of bringing about this carnival of great joy. He can win the Preakness, if he runs to form, for there isn't the decimal of a doubt that he is the class of the field. He ran like a very good colt in winning the Kings county handicap on Saturday over a distance of ground.

Probably not more than seventeen horses will start in the Preakness on Friday. Of these, only a few like Strolling Player, the $61,000 importation; Distraction, winner of the Wood stakes; Bobshela, who outran the Chesapeake field; Brooms, the hopeful winner; Petee Wrack, Night Life, Sortie, Victorian and a few more are concerned to have a chance. They really shouldn't run in Nassak's playground, however.

If the field is cut down to race size, a dollar on Nassak will look like a diploma, frame and all.

With 439,000 inhabitants, Montevideo now has more than one-fourth of the population of Uruguay.

Dewey McKinney Secor Favorite. GOSHEN, N. Y., May 5.—Dewey McKinney, the fast half-brother to the champion, Guy McKinney, 1:58 3/4, is being regarded as one of the real dark horses for the $12,500 Hotel Secor trot scheduled at Toledo July 12.

This gelding, who is in the stable of Walter R. Cox, was purchased by Claude B. Ludington, the Rochester, N. Y. sportsman, for $25,000 last year and went into the hands of Tommy Murphy. He had to race against the champion, Hazelton, 2:01 3/4, and consequently met with only fair success in the stakes.

This season, Dewey McKinney has never looked better and is training well. There is a chance he again will buck up against as formidable opposition as Hazelton, but there is a good possibility he will have improved sufficiently to make it hot for anybody's trotter. Last year was only the first of real track experience for him.

Dewey McKinney proved he can trot fast in 1926 when he set a world record of 2:11 for a mile and a sixteenth at Syracuse, N. Y. His driver on that occasion was Walter R. Cox, the man that has him now.

Stolen Idols

A Romance of the Sea
By Frank L. Packard.

After the treasure is found, the end would come. There was just one hope left, a slender one, like the catching of the proverbial straw. It depended first on the fact that the schooner, being little better than a derelict, had probably been laid up somewhere when Java Dick had got hold of her, and that the equipment had either run to seed or been stolen. Her rigging was rotten, her canvas was worse, and nothing in years had ever apparently been renewed. The wonder was that she was left with even one boat, which was all she had. That was the first point. It might not be very seaworthy, and probably wasn't, but there was only one boat. The second point was that, where before this had brought him added anxiety, he now counted on Captain Scarface being at Luala.

For three days now, since he had first satisfied himself that there was but one boat, he had buoyed himself up and fought back despair with a bitter determination to cling to what might in the end be only an illusion, but which, meanwhile, held out at least a glimmer of hope. The boat would not hold many. It was certain that both Chen-shu and Java Dick would go ashore; and it was almost equally certain that Verna and himself would be taken along—that would be room, then for no more than three or four of the crew at the outside. The odds in that case would be in Captain Scarface's favor—and Captain Scarface might be able to effect a rescue—a slender hope! He had never ranked it otherwise. Verna and he might not be taken ashore in the boat, and, even if they were, Captain Scarface might have gone, or might not see them, or might not bring about anything but a disaster, perhaps even to himself, in a fight that might take place. Or perhaps Captain Scarface's schooner itself might be seen unless it was anchored behind some headland, and Chen-shu would become wary and reconnoiter before he made any move at all. Not much to count upon! Not much—when it meant Verna's life!

But that was for to-morrow—the end, whatever it might be, would not come now until to-morrow. It was already within an hour of sunset, and even if a breeze sprang up, of which there was neither sign nor likelihood, there would be no landing on Luala tonight.

An hour till sunset—and the sun was still merciless in its blazing rays! It would be a relief when it went down—and a relief not only on account of the heat. It had been a day of abomination aboard the schooner, the worst of all the four, a day that must have been one of naked awfulness for Verna. At no time since leaving Singapore had there ever been anything but the merest pretense of discipline; but today, both because of inactivity and the proximity of Luala that was to satisfy the dreams of greed and gold of those aboard, even that pretense was no more. From the first, Java Dick had not drawn a sober breath; to-day he was a sotted brute, mauling and bawling coarse oaths, scarcely able to stand upon his feet. From the first, there had never been any regular watches kept, for the crew had been mere adrifts, employed in stinking up their quarters with opium, and so that some were left to sail the vessel, it had no more to do with Chen-shu if the rest lay senseless in their bunks; to-day there was no sailing to be done, only Luala to stare at with rapacious eyes through the heat haze—and to their drugs they too had added drink, and the decks had been the scene of unlicensed orgies and brawls in which knives had more than once played a part—and this was still going on, though in a lesser degree, for here and there a sprawled figure bespoke the fact that some were already in a state of stupor. Even Chen-shu, who up to now had shown no signs of excessive dissipation, was becoming less abstemious, the secret lost within him perished too great to overcome in the face of idleness and a unanimous example. An hour ago when Chen-shu had stood near-by, there had been a sobriety about the man's lips, a dullness in his eyes, that not only told their own story, but made Chen-shu even more repulsive in appearance than usual. If that were possible. Pray God, the night hide these sights from Verna! Pray God, the darkness bring an end to them!

He raised his head suddenly at the sound of Java Dick's voice. Java Dick and Chen-shu were standing over the prostrate form of Mindar Singh along the deck there. The words reached Bob Kingsley distinct.

"He doesn't look like he was going to last!" proclaimed Java Dick sentimentally; and then, with a drunken leer: "And him almost in sight of that treasure! He was setting his heart on seeing 'Too'! There weren't no wifid to-day so we could have got there before he croaked and he could have died happy! Too bad we're stuck out here and can't move. Gawd, ain't it tough!"

And then as though born out of sudden, ugly inspiration, Chen-shu smiled wickedly. "Your words, O Java Dick, have fallen upon compassionate ears!" he answered. "That which one who is near death so greatly desires, I should be assisted to attain; and while yet a little strength remains to him how better could he use it than in the hope that, by means of his last exertions, he may yet be in time to satisfy with his eagerly straining eyes the craving of his soul? And so it shall be done, and what aid we can give him shall be freely his."

Bob Kingsley stared along the deck, his lips suddenly tightened. Java Dick was blinking owlishly, and lurching upon his feet; Chen-shu was calling shrilly, giving rapid orders in Chinese to the crew. What devil's play was the man up to now?

CHAPTER 54.

A half dozen of the crew, as though revitalized by some pleasing prospect, responded with amazing alacrity, and, suddenly shrieking with laughter, ran to obey their leader's commands; others, aroused by the noisy activity from a semi-comatose condition, shivered and staggered in Chen-shu's direction. And then Bob Kingsley, watching saw a rope made fast to the schooner's boat, the boat launched and Mindar Singh hoisted over the rail and dropped sprawling into it.

A flush of anger darkened Bob Kingsley's face at this act of wanton brutality. But that was not the end of it, of course! What was to come next? Some new scheme of torture, he knew, devised by Chen-shu—but what? He had not long to wait for the answer. The rope from the boat's stern, some fifteen feet in length, was made fast under the schooner's bow, and while four of the schooner's crew, armed with whips with long, knotted lashes, swarmed out upon the bowsprit over the boat, Chen-shu called mockingly from the fore-castle head to Mindar Singh.

"Row, Mindar Singh!" he said. "That which you desire is even now in sight. It shall not be said that because the wind hath failed us, we have failed you. Point the boat toward the land Mindar Singh, forward, the land, Mindar Singh, for what you have sought so eagerly is there; but go quickly for the darkness will soon be upon us."

And Java Dick at Chen-shu's side roared with drunken laughter; and the rest of the crew shrieked applause. And Mindar Singh plied the oars, and the lashes fell, and Mindar Singh screamed piteously.

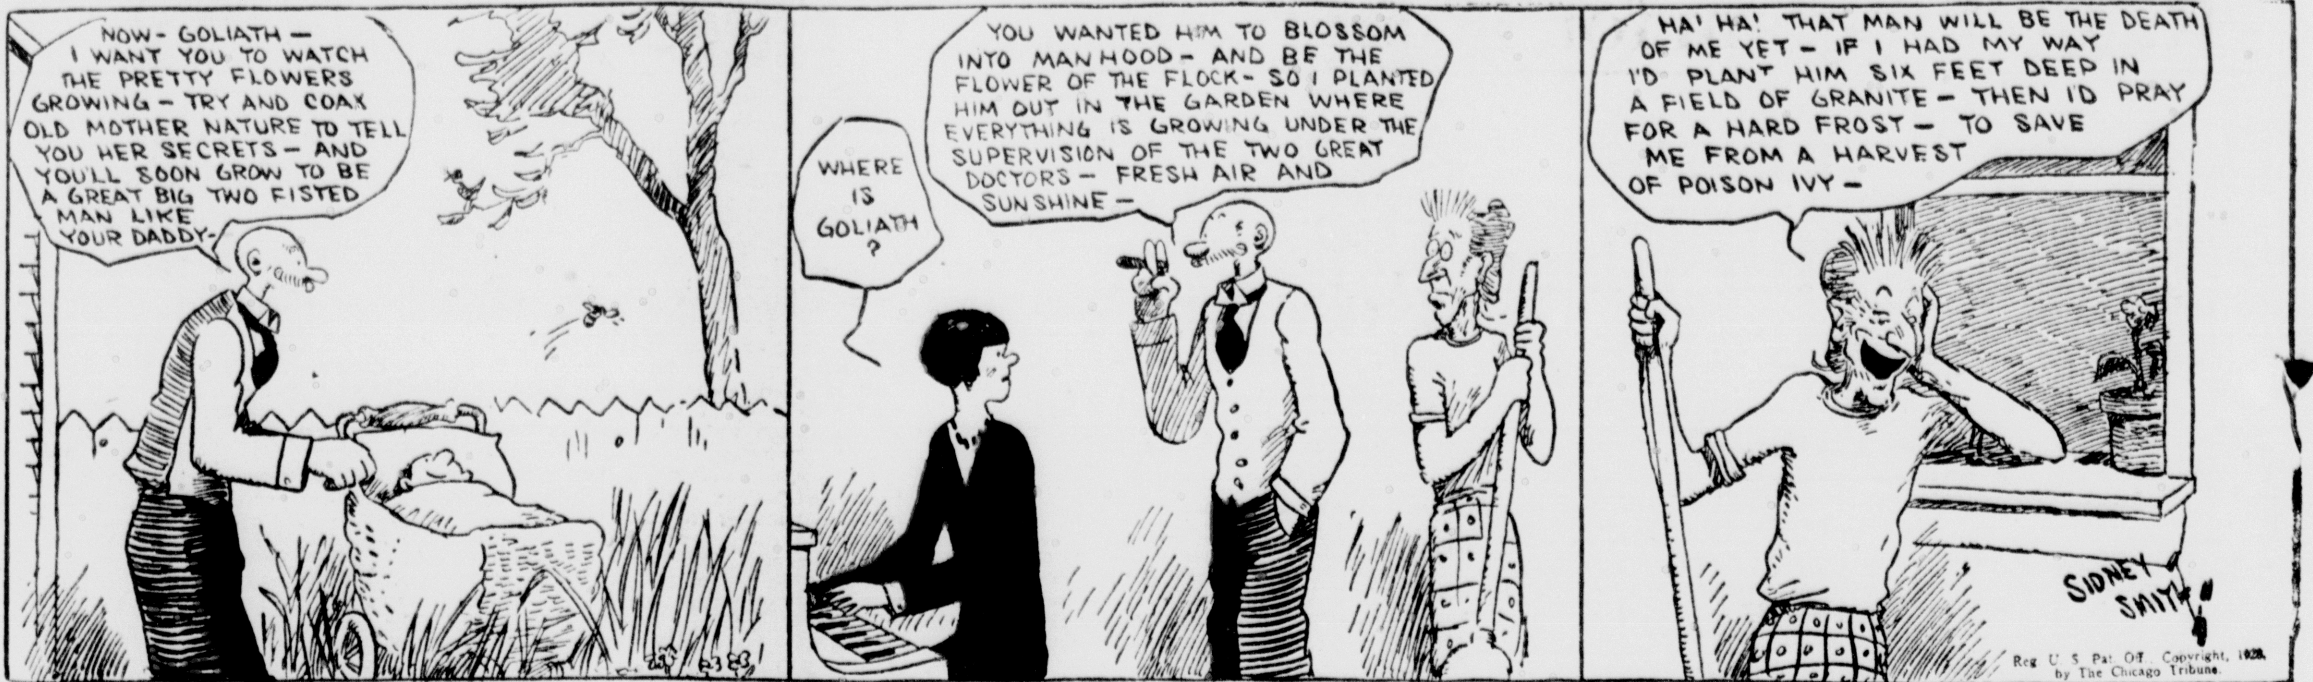

"Faster, Mindar Singh!" Chen-shu urged. "How is it that we do not move when he who is possessed of such overpowering determination to reach what awaits him on the shore is he to whom we have confided the guidance?" the sly? Faster, Mindar Singh, faster, lest we come to fa that our faith in your prudence for this effort to ferry our d is a has been misplaced!"

Bob Kingsley, with a sickness upon him that was near to nausea, turned away his head. He could shut out the sight of Mindar Singh's driving at his cruel and impossible task, swaying weakly in his seat, the lashes falling fast and merciless upon face and neck and back and chest; but he could not shut out the sounds of the agonized screams that came up from under the schooner's bows, or the hideous swishing of the whips, or the jeers and laughter that somehow was the most demoniacal sound of all. Anger he knew, a fury that was all possessing; but he was impotent, securely tethered to the rail, and he could only stand there white faced and powerless to interfere.

The pattern is furnished in size 18 years, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46 inches bust measure. For the 36-inch size 2 7/8 yards of 40-inch material with 1 1/4 yards of 27-inch contrasting fabric 15 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred).

In ordering pattern clip the design shown or order by number. Write your name and address plainly. Enclosing 15 cents and mail to Fashion Department, East Liverpool Review. From 7 to 10 days are required for delivery of patterns. For 10 cents additional you can obtain our Spring Fashion Magazine.

Worked for $3 Weekly Now Worth Millions

Axel Gulbransen, Who Started as Immigrant Boy, Celebrates Golden Jubilee of His Business Career.

Axel G. Gulbransen, who started as a poor immigrant boy working for $3 a week 50 years ago, is celebrating the golden jubilee of his business career which has carried him to the head of a five million dollar piano manufacturing business, the largest of its kind in the world.

Without influence or pull, Gulbransen rose from the ranks. He climbed to the top by sheer ability. He was born in Oslo, Norway. When he was 11 years old he migrated to America where his father had a job in an organ factory in Mendota, Ill. Axel helped after school and on Saturdays. Then when he was a little older, he went to work full time.

Up to the age of 45, he was still working for others at a salary which today would be considered small. Then quitting his job as superintending a piano factory at an age when most men are too settled to dare such an undertaking, he ventured with his little savings into a business already crowded with a host of competitors. That was 20 years ago. Today Gulbransen's business is the biggest in its field and he has registered 50 important patents in his own name.

"For years people had been experimenting with devices to play pianos automatically," said Mr. Gulbransen. "The first automatic piano was built in this country in 1897. The business was still new and it had been part of my job while working for other to participate in experiments of one sort or another with player-pianos. Millions of pianos stood silent in American homes with no one to play them. I determined to put these silent pianos to musical use."

So Gulbransen rented a small loft, hired a boy to help him and set out on the great adventure. The invention was successful and the business prospered. He sold his entire output to piano manufacturers. Within a few years he occupied the whole of a six story building.

Then one day a big opportunity came. A piano firm that had gone to the wall had a factory that the creditors wanted to dispose of. Gulbransen and his associates arranged to buy it. He ceased selling player apparatus to other piano manufacturers and installed it in pianos he built himself. That first year he set 10,000 pianos as his manufacturing goal. The trade snickered. But the end of the year saw his goal reached.

"How did you achieve success?" he was asked.

"The fellows around me were content to follow the same routine, doing the same thing in the same way day in and day out," he said. "I did things in a different and better way. I did what I had to do to the best of my ability. When I had finished a task, I knew it was finished well."

"I had no friends higher up to pull me to the top. As a matter of fact a young man should never depend on friendship for advancement. I set great store by friendships, but not as a business asset. It is ability, work, and results that carry one upward."

"Opportunities exist in far greater measures today than when I started 50 years ago. There are more big opportunities for the average man. To climb high one should begin low. The bottom is the best starting point a young man can have.

Circus day scenes. Memories of childhood drift back vividly when such scenes as those above are shown. These scenes will be enacted again in East Liverpool on Saturday, May 12, when the Gentry Bros. Circus gives two performances here. Tents will be located on the Patterson athletic field.

"Too few young men are really determined to achieve first place. They do not want it enough to do the necessary work or make the necessary sacrifices."

"I have always practiced careful savings and careful spending. Even when a poor boy, I always managed to put money in the bank."

"Too many young men today think solely in terms of the pay envelope. Forget the immediate compensation. If you deliver the goods salary will take care of itself."

"One finds in many factories and shops workers whose one idea is to do as little as possible, to watch the clock and 'get by' to escape being fired. They are the kind that stay at the same job all their lives, still 'getting by' when their hair is gray."

"I believe a young man can make his best start in life away from home. Most young men lean too heavily on their family. Their parents do their thinking for them."

"A college education is a fine thing if a man can forget it. I believe that three-fourths of the boys attending college today are wasting their time. They may learn how to use a salad fork or what kind of clothes to wear to a garden party, but in most cases they are totally unprepared for practical business careers.

"If I had a son I would by all means have him finish high school. Then I would have him go to work in a factory. Napoleon once said that there was a marshal's baton in every soldier's knapsack. I believe there is a business presidency in the bench of every workman. Most young men today frown on becoming mechanics. Yet there are far greater opportunities in manufacturing concerns than there are in white collar jobs in banks and offices."

"Music should be a great influence in every man's life. Some men believe it is effeminate to show an interest in music. Yet small town bands have produced thousands of the nation's business leaders."

Year by year the Gulbransen business has developed and expanded and the factory now produces many other types of pianos in addition to the player instrument originally made. Regular uprights, grands, art styles, period models and small uprights now go to make up the total output.

Soon after establishing the manufacturing business, Mr. Gulbransen devised a merchandising plan which since has revolutionized piano selling. Buying a piano formerly was like taking a pig in a poke. The dealer got the best prices he could and the same piano might cover a price range of several hundred dollars. Gulbransen decided to set a standard price and stamp it on the back of the instrument and then by national advertising to let the world know that his pianos sold for the same price in Los Angeles as in Chicago.

Dancing is Held Dangerous Sport By French Doctor

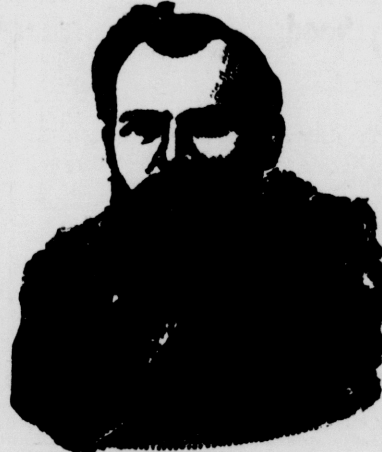

PARIS.—Dancing is a dangerous sport, according to a well-known French doctor who condemns modern steps such as the Charleston and Black Bottom.

Writing in the "Comedie" he says that the knee is especially liable to serious injury because the new dances call for movements for which it was never fitted. It is a one-way joint, rather like a hinge in the center of the lever formed by the upper and lower leg to be bent backward from the center. In attempting to bend it sideways there is a serious risk of dislocation.

Even ordinary dancing imposes a strain upon the knee and ankle joints, according to the French doctor, and any increase of this strain results in painful consequences. Five thousand cases of sprained or dislocated knees have come under his notice recently, far of them due to the modern dance craze.

Claiming that they had been engaged for 23 years, a woman of 50 has sued in Leicester, England, a man of 53 for breach of promise, asking $5,000 damages.
